Master of Laws (LL.M.)
Since 1897, the University of Illinois College of Law has offered students a rigorous, broad-ranging, and innovative legal education on the campus of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, one of the world’s great research universities.
With a nationally renowned faculty, a rich and diverse curriculum, myriad opportunities for experiential learning, and the expansive resources of a world-class, comprehensive research university, Illinois Law features a first-rate academic program designed to prepare students to excel in their future professional careers.

Top-Notch Faculty
The Illinois faculty are known for their expertise and national visibility, their engaged approach to teaching, their open-door policy with respect to students, and their strong commitment to students’ professional development. They also bring a range of perspectives to their teaching and research: in addition to their juris doctors, about half of the faculty hold advanced graduate degrees in fields ranging from computer engineering to medicine.

Cutting-Edge Curriculum
We work to ensure that our curriculum is timely and robust. For example, the College of Law has recently added new courses in venture capital, environmental sustainability, executive compensation, and microfinance. In 2012, the National Jurist named Illinois Law to its list of Most Innovative Law Schools.

Global Community
The effective lawyer in the 21st century is a global lawyer. Illinois has particular strengths in international trade law, commercial law, and human rights law and a proud tradition of training foreign lawyers, governmental officials, and legal educators. Through the Global Law Fellows Program, students have the opportunity to work with local practitioners and judges, adding practice to their classroom experience. By cultivating global awareness, Illinois builds networks and collaborations and prepares our students to be at the forefront of the next generation of lawyers and legal scholars.
Student Life

Illinois Law students are talented and ambitious, but they also value teamwork. At Illinois, what students accomplish together is as important and as meaningful as what they accomplish themselves. This spirit serves our graduates well in their future professional positions, where they have a reputation for being effective team players.

Student Organizations
Whether it’s public interest or corporate law, Illinois offers many opportunities for students with a variety of interests to get involved.

Competitions and Pro Bono
Illinois LL.M. students have the opportunity to participate in the College of Law’s Negotiation and Client Counseling Competitions. Students can also earn pro bono notations through court watching and other forms of public service.

Big Ten Athletics
Cheer on the Fighting Illini! Students enjoy home football games and tailgating with classmates at Memorial Stadium and basketball games at the State Farm Center.

Activities and Recreation Center
The state-of-the-art Activities and Recreation Center is one of the premier campus recreation facilities in the country and is just steps from the law school.

Known for their:

- expertise and national visibility
- engaged approach to teaching
- strong commitment to students
Law school is a significant investment in a student’s professional future. As a public law school on a land-grant university campus, Illinois Law is committed to educational accessibility, affordability, and strong return on investment.

Scholarships and Financial Aid
Financial aid in the form of scholarships and research assistant fellowships is available. Awards are made based on merit, need, and available funds. All admitted students are automatically considered for scholarships, which are awarded to students who show the greatest promise for success in the study of law and their future professional endeavors. A limited number of research assistantships are available to qualified students.

BE INVOLVED
CHAMPAIGN-URBANA

A micro-urban community known for its big-city amenities yet small-town affordability, accessibility, safety, and friendliness, Champaign-Urbana is dynamic and vibrant, with a lively cultural scene, a variety of restaurants, and numerous recreational opportunities. Whether you’re looking for a fun college town or a family-friendly community, Champaign-Urbana has something for everyone.

Named a Top Ten College Town by livability.com, Champaign-Urbana boasts an assortment of restaurants, shopping, coffee houses, nightlife (including plenty of clubs and live music venues), movie theaters, athletic facilities, museums, good schools, and award-winning park facilities and programs.

HOUSING

Whether you’re looking for a quiet tree-lined neighborhood or the bustle of a larger apartment complex, you’ll find an array of rental options in Champaign-Urbana at affordable costs.

The majority of College of Law students live in off-campus housing; however, the University of Illinois has a limited number of graduate and family housing units available.

GETTING AROUND

Champaign-Urbana’s award-winning mass transit bus system (MTD) covers the majority of the twin cities and is free to students. With a convenient schedule to and from the law school, it’s a great option and very popular.

For those who prefer to bike, the flat terrain, miles of bike-only paths, and a growing number of bike lanes on shared roads make it easy to get around on bicycle. Each MTD bus is also equipped with an easy-to-use bike rack.
